WE NOMINATE

James Conyers Sayen, self-effacing and far-visioned Princetonian, who this week, together with his nine associates on Princeton Township's Open Space Committee, made news of prime significance with the submission to the Township Committee of a searching "open space report" representing some 18 months of dedicated effort. In a week when these United States are thinking in terms of "outer space," measured by orbits rather than by acres, the 46-year old Sayen has delivered to the Township a blueprint for the future which accentuates that the time is now for a mushrooming municipality to face up to problems presented by such over-used, and little-understood, terms as "urban sprawl" and "population explosion."

The base-point for this study, the first carried forward by any New Jersey community and conceivably the first such undertaking in the entire country, is the phenomenal growth of the Township over the past two decades—and the projections for the years just ahead. Looking back upon a 350% population jump in 20 years (from 3,251 in 1940 to 11,000 in 1960), the Township as one of the few remaining "green belts" in the Boston-to-Washington complex can reasonably anticipate an influx of another 10,000 persons by 1975 and the construction of some 3,600 additional dwelling units, each accommodating an average of 3.1 persons.

In recommending that approximately 2,300 Township acres (out of an overall total of 10,400 acres) be "permanently preserved" as open space, including neighborhood parks, all-day recreational space, urban parks and "general open space," the Princeton-born Sayen has guided his committee through some 40 "working sessions" and a series of consultations with a variety of experts. Throughout it all, as it has hammered out its recommendations, one-by-one, the committee has achieved a remarkable degree of unanimity and Sayen has succeeded in avoiding the twin pitfalls of "politics" and the "emotionalism of Township-Borough consolidation."

Sayen, a realist in municipal affairs and a driving-force in the establishment of the Open Space Committee he has chaired, brought to his voluntary assignment a keen awareness of the "threat of uncontrolled urbanization." An advocate some five years ago of a thorough-going analysis of the promises suggested by the proposed merging of Township and Borough, he has in this instance been concerned with the preparation of a definitive report, "one fair to present landowners and compatible with water supply, topography, economics, natural features and the character of the Township."

President since 1946 of the New York-based Mercer Rubber Corporation, manufacturers of industrial rubber products, Sayen for the past 16 years has been on the periphery of "Princeton politics" without ever declaring himself an aspirant for public office. Active in local Republican circles, and the father of four children, ranging in years from 17 to 10, Sayen, an Army veteran of World War II, has any number of compelling extra-curricular interests. He is a trustee of the Stony Brook-Millstone Water Sheds Association, a member of the Princeton University Chapel Council and an officer of the Princeton Class of 1938.

For sensing, far better than most, that "both time and land are running out"; for seeking to develop new understanding of what planners often call "inexcusable neglect"; for reminding others to act, and decisively, "while we can still save space"; he is TOWN TOPICS' nominee for

HOSPITAL MEETING HELD

In Peace and Quiet. A scattered hundred members of the Princeton Hospital Corporation met in the auditorium of Princeton High School Monday night to approve an uncontested slate of trustees, listen to annual reports and then to adjourn after a scant hour and a half of peace and routine.

John H. Wallace, Jr., president of the Board of Trustees, set the tone for the meeting when he read the first sentence of his annual report: "Princeton Hospital was a far happier organization at the end of 1961 than it was during the early months of the year," and then looked up from his speech and interpolated, "Thank God!"

Good News. To Princeton residents, some of them only dimly aware of the rumblings and occasional explosions from the Hospital during 1961, the most significant report of the evening may well have been that of Dr. Charles H. Place, outgoing president of the Medical and Dental Staff.

Dr. Place departed from his prepared report to state that New Jersey Department of Health officials had visited Princeton Hospital during the summer of 1961 and had complimented the staff on the excellent work done in combatting staphylococcus infections.

The medical and dental chief told corporation members that Camille M. Bavara, public health nurse consultant for hospitals with the department of health, and Dr. Renee Zindwer, coordinator of the maternal and child health program of the department of health, both visited the institution.

Dr. Zindwer even said that some precautions could be eliminated, without reducing the "laudable results" achieved in the battle with staph, and Dr. Place said later that the incidence of staph in Princeton Hospital was "practically zero" and had been for some time.

Too Crowded. In the body of his report, Dr. Place commented on the deficiencies and limitations of size and comfort in the departments of pediatrics, obstetrics, radiology and pathology, and pointed out that although radiology, for example, had been reorganized to allow for its increased load, it was already seriously overcrowded.

Dr. Place said that the Trustees had authorized a new intensive care unit for the acutely ill medical and surgical patient and he referred to it as "one of the finest advances in the medical care offered by Princeton Hospital."

Mr. Wallace told the corporation that a preliminary master plan had been received from the hospital's architects, projecting a three-stage expansion which would increase capacity from 196 to 300 beds and would cost about $6 million.

However, Mr. Wallace, said, the Trustees had asked the architects to prepare less costly alternate plans which would not require so much new construction but would still give some relief. These plans will be acted on within a few months, Mr. Wallace said.

Reporting on the day-to-day operation of the Hospital, administrator John W. Kauffman quoted Dr. Arthur L. Magill, field representative of the Joint Commission on Accreditation of Hospitals. Dr. Magill had told Mr. Kauffman, following a tour of Princeton Hospital, that everything he found indicated outstanding patient care, and that was often not the case in hospitals where there had been internal conflicts.

$ $ $ $. On the financial side, George W. Conover, treasurer of the Board of Trustees, outlined the "serious difficulties" presented by the figure which the state has set as the amount Princeton Hospital receives for each of its Blue Cross patients (54% of the 1961 admissions were Blue Cross).

Mr. Conover said, in his report, that the state has refused to approve the hospital's 1961 cost because it was higher than it should have been considering the institution's low occupancy. (On the average, in 1961, 73% of the hospital's beds were occupied.)

If the state accepts the additional statistics supplied by the hospital, Mr. Conover said, the adjustment could be more than $60,000, which would substantially affect the $124,804.64 loss which the hospital found it had at the end of 1961.

Report? The Rourke report and the comments on it made by the Joint Conference Committee, were touched on by Mr. Wallace, but drew no comment from the floor.

The report, which was distributed to the trustees and to certain members of the medical and administrative staff and not to corporation members generally, as was stated in last week's TOWN TOPICS, had been the subject of some speculation. The Friends of Princeton Hospital had voted to ask the Trustees if they would comment on the report, believing that such a comment would be in the best interests of the hospital, but the Trustees made no comments aside from references in the various departmental reports.

At the conclusion of the meeting, Mrs. Robert Palmer, newly-elected president of the Friends of Princeton Hospital, commended the Trustees for their decision to release the findings of the report.

"This one action alone will do more than anything else could to clear the air and relieve the tensions of the past year," she said. "The community now knows that a real evaluation of the situation has been made and that specific actions have already been taken to remedy the various difficulties."

HONORED: Elmer W. Engstrom, president of RCA, was cited twice this week by Princeton organizations. On Thursday, he was presented with the Gerard B. Lambert Award for community service by the United Community Fund, and on Monday, he was thanked by the Princeton Hospital Corporation for the work he has done as a member of the Board of Trustees. He is retiring as a hospital Trustee.

"We are grateful to the committee (the Joint Conference Committee) and to the Board for the many hours of study and hard work which must have gone into this detailed report and we wish again to express publicly our confidence in the hospital and in its future. We have no further questions to ask at this time."

ROUND-UP

Temperature variations of no more than 20 degrees have been recorded during the mild spell of the past ten days, ranging from a low of 20 to a high of 44 . . . however, February did produce one wide swing of 70 degrees within a week's time, the thermometer going from 64 on the 5th to 6 below on the 11th.

The steady rain as the week began pushed total rainfall for the month above four inches, about 25% above normal . . . as usual, Stony Brook flooded the Quaker Road area and the Millstone River burst its bonds below the Kingston dam.

Fog, ice on the roads and, in one instance, ice in a truck caused a variety of accidents during the week . . . Sunday afternoon at 5:26, Mr. and Mrs. A. V. Bedford, 173 Jefferson Road, were driving south on State Road 206 near Township Hall when a truck going in the opposite direction carrying ice (the commercial, not the storm-debris type) lost part of its load . . . the Bedford's car sustained a broken windshield, damaged hood and punctured radiator and they were showered with ice but uninjured.

A lighted cigarette butt was the cause of another accident Saturday at 6:35 p.m. . . . Bernard Buggs, 64 Birch Avenue, flicked one out of his car while driving south on Mercer Street but it failed to clear the window . . . thinking he was sitting on it, he lost control and struck a parked car owned by Mrs. John I. Pearce, 8 Morven Place.

A two-car collision occurred last Wednesday at Nassau and Scott Lane when Mrs. William R. Rocknak, 1082 Princeton-Kingston Road, crossed the center line and hit a car operated by Mrs. John R. Weld, 221 Shadybrook Lane . . . Borough police quoted Mrs. Rocknak as saying she "blacked out" briefly just before the accident and could not recall exactly what occurred . . . both cars were towed from the scene, both women received minor injuries and Mrs. Rocknak received a summons for careless driving.

Miscellaneous notes: the Princeton Rotary Club is marking the 20th anniversary of its organization in February, 1942, with Harold Zarker as its first president . . . Laurence B. Patterson, deputy tax collector for the Borough, points out that with abolition of the personal property tax, moving permits are no longer required for individuals (raising the question: how many individuals were aware that such was the law until now) . . . the requirement is still in force, however, for any business firm changing its location.

How'd you like to make $10,000,000 at a cost of only $9.07? The government can—it costs only that much to print 1000 bills (of any denomination), and 1000 $10,000 bills are worth $10,000,000.

We got to talking about the earliest recorded use of metals by man. The Bronze Age (3500-1000 B.C.) marked the earliest use of primitive molded metals, and man made slow, plodding progress in its use, going centuries without significant steps. There is considerable reference to metals in the Old Testament, such as Tubal Cain as "An instructor of every artificer of brass and iron" (Gen. IV:22). But it was not until the 15th. Century A.D. that man knew much about these seven basic metals, gold, copper, iron, silver, tin, lead and mercury. Man-made steel did not become perfected until the latter half of the 18th century, with very slow progress right up to the late 19th century, when progress then came in leaps and bounds and became basic to our way of life in the 20th century. In our own day the greatest single group of metals is your automobile, containing some of almost all known metals. It combines them to make the most intricate mechanism ever to come into common use. It is our purpose in life to provide you with the best possible automobile and arrange that its intricasies never become a bother to you. This we accomplish with untold years of experience and employment of only the most modern equipment, operated only by thoroughly trained specialists. Thus we are here soley to serve you to utmost satisfaction regardless of the complexities, and you can forget them completely. AWARDS GIVEN

By Community Fund. The annual Gerard B. Lambert Award for Community Service was presented Thursday at the United Community Fund annual dinner to Dr. Elmer W. Engstrom, president of RCA.

A new citation, the first annual Princeton Council of Community Services award, was given to Mrs. Harold Sprout "for outstanding leadership and guidance in the field of community planning." Retiring United Fund president Paul E. Orr, Jr., made both presentations on behalf of the Fund.

Through the medium of the Fund's Annual Report, it was announced that the new Living Memorial Foundation will be launched with approximately $2,000 realized from the sale of tickets to the United Festival of Song held last month.

Steps are now being taken to establish the Foundation legally, its chairman, Thomas P. Cook, reported.

Robert V. Dilley, campaign chairman for the Fund, reported that final results showed that 104.4 percent of the $250,000 goal had been achieved, or $269,959. He said this was $26,921 more than 1960, or an increase of 11 percent.

This was the second year since 1955 that the Fund has gone over the top. Last year's goal was exceeded by $15.

Mr. Orr reported as one of the most important developments of the year an agreement on territorial boundaries and specific areas to be served by the Fund. The organization now serves Princeton, Kingston, Hightstown, Cranbury, West Windsor, East Windsor, Rocky Hill, Plainsboro, Lower South Brunswick Township and parts of Hopewell, Pennington, Lawrence and Montgomery Townships.

Fund plaques were given to 16 Princeton firms with ten or more employees in which 75 percent of the employees gave one hour's pay per month for 1962.

The firms are Aeronautical Research Association, Astro-Electronics Products (RCA), Benson & and Benson, Inc., The Gallup Organization, Gallup & and Robinson, Inc., Opinion Research and RCA.

Also, Western Electric Laboratory, Harland W. Hoisington, Inc., Management Planning, Inc., YMCA, Whting Paper Company, Princeton University Store, Langrock's, Lewis C. Bowers and Sons and the University faculty.

RAISE FOR THE MAYOR?

Ordinance Drawn. An increase in the Mayor's salary from $1,000 to $2,000 a year will be proposed to Township residents Monday night when an ordinance providing such an increase is introduced by Township Committee.

The 1960 census puts the Township in the category of municipalities having more than 9,000 residents, and qualifies it, therefore, to increase its Mayor's salary to a maximum of $2,000 if it wishes to do so.

Committeemen, who receive $500 a year, are allowed $1,000 a year now that the Township has reached the 9,000 - plus mark, but this increase is provided for by state law and need not be ordinanced Committee will also introduce an ordinance increasing the magistrate's salary from $2,100 to $2,400.

The public hearing on the 1962 budget will be held Monday night, and Township residents may pick up copies of the budget and explanatory leaflets at the office of the administrator.

There will also be public hearings on the ordinance authorizing the purchase of two new trucks, and the ordinance providing funds to survey and design The Great Road realignment.

INJURED IN SKID

Sustains Fractures. A broadside skid that took his car 205 feet landed Kenneth C. Seasserra, 23, in Princeton Hospital with a fractured right knee, multiple fractures of the hip, a fractured right upper arm and contusions and lacerations of the face.

The one-car accident occurred at 3:15 a.m. Saturday on the Princeton - Kingston Road at the Prospect Avenue Extension intersection. Mr. Seasserra's car was a total loss.

ALL'S FAIR IN SCIENCE: Each year, earnest Princeton scientists struggle with displays showing the dissection of a fish, the structure of a molecule, the relationship between Einstein and Newton and how to lead a hamster through a maze. On a given day—it was Monday—parents pack the scientist and the fragile exhibit into the family car and drive the package to school for display and a possible prize, in the annual Science Fair. (The traffic jam at Valley Road School Monday morning at the height of this annual pilgrimage resembled Nassau Street at 5 p.m.) Seventh and eight grade science classes at Valley Road filled the auditoinm with their projects. Here, some critics pass judgment. Above: Nick Knorr (left) and Sandy Procaccino examine one of the displays while Karen Hammond (left) and Carol Sinkler consider a structural exhibit. (Staff Photos)

Daffodils

I wander'd lonely as a cloud
That floats on high o'er vales and hills,
When all at once I saw a crowd,
A host, of golden daffodils;
Beside the lake, beneath the trees,
Fluttering and dancing in the breeze.

Continuous as the stars that shine
And twinkle on the Milky Way,
They stretch'd in never-ending line
Along the margin of a bay:
Ten thousand saw I at a glance,
Tossing their heads in sprightly dance.

The waves beside them danced, but they
Out-did the sparkling waves in glee:
A poet could not but be gay,
In such a jocund company:
I gazed — and gazed — but little thought
What wealth the show to me had brought:

For oft, when on my couch I lie
In vacant or in pensive mood,
They flash upon that inward eye
Which is the bliss of solitude;
And then my heart with pleasure fills,
And dances with the daffodils.

We've got a host of golden daffodils, too—
2 DOZEN FOR $1

Lines on a Lion

On March the first
We have the lion,
Clawing, windy,
Full of roars.
On April first,
We'll get that lamb,
But in the meantime —
Shut the doors!

—WINDOWS TFW

It was a mighty soggy Lion making his appearance with the month of March, but maybe some of that traditional wind will blow the extremely persistent rain clouds away.

Clearing weather is scheduled to arrive, but may not be with us more than 24 hours. Rain is possible again late Friday or Saturday; temperatures no more than seasonably cold through Sunday.

News Of The THEATRES

"DUCHESS" IS HERE

"Gala" Is Scheduled. With a gala opening performance this Friday at 8:30, McCarter Theatre will launch its Spring Drama Season of Elizabethan plays.

The opener will be "The Duchess of Malfi" by John Webster, a tragedy in which the forces of light and the forces of darkness wage their eternal struggle.

Philip Minor, director of the off-Broadway production of Shaw's "Misalliance," will direct the Webster work. Christine Pickles will play the title role. John Heffernan will be seen as the Cardinal. Roy Scheider will play Ferdinand and Ramon Bieri will appear as Bosola.

A graduate of London's Royal Academy of Dramatic Art, Miss Pickles has played extensively in repertory, on TV and on the radio in England, and has played leading roles in this country with the New York Shakespeare Festival, the Charles Playhouse, Boston and the 1961 summer tour of APA.

Tickets for the first night Gala are available to the public at no increase in prices and reservations may be made by calling WA 1-8700.

Paintings, drawings and wood engravings by Stefan Martin will be on exhibition at McCarter through March 9. A resident of Roosevelt, N. J. and a specialist in wood engraving, Mr. Martin has published in books, journals and other graphic media and is now preparing illustrations for a book on North American fauna. His wood engraving of Shakespeare appears on McCarter Theatre posters advertising the Elizabethan series.

'HENRY IV' SET

For Intime Performance. Luigi Pirandello's "Henry IV," a fantasy-study of insanity, will close out its run in Murray Theatre this weekend. The Theatre Intime performance will be given at 8:30 p.m., on Thursday, Friday and Saturday evenings.

Reed Armstrong has the title role, with Thelma Lumsden as Donna Matilda and Bill Pierce as Belcredi. The latter two are professional actors, while the rest of the cast is made up of University undergraduates and former Intime contributors.

THE CLAN MACDUFF: Georgine Hall and David Kempton, two long-time residents of Princeton and ornaments of its theatrical scene, will appear as Lady Macduff and her son in the McCarter production of "Macbeth." Mrs. Hall has been seen in many Princeton theatrical offerings. Master Kempton, a pupil at Johnson Park School, was last seen as "Mustard Seed" in the McCarter "Midsummer Night's Dream."

Paul Glicker, who directed Intime's "La Ronde" last year, is directing the current production. Bruce MacKenzie is the producer. The show opened last weekend and was given early this week for four performances.

YOU ARE INVITED

To Players' Meeting. A one-act play will be given, refreshments will be served and a forthcoming production will be discussed at the Community Players' first Open Meeting of the year, to be held Sunday at 8 p.m. in Murray Theatre.

"All the King's Men" is the spring production under consideration. It will be given late in March under the guidance of Edward Earle, who directed the West Coast premiere of the Robert Penn Warren work and has done the choreography for several Broadway and off-Broadway offerings.

Mr. Earle created the musical effects for Broadway's "The Dark at the Top of the Stairs" and "Viva Madison Avenue" and choreographed off-Broadday's "The Decameron." The director of the Trenton Studio of Performing Arts, he was recently seen at McCarter Theatre as the Conjur Man in "Dark of the Moon."

Try-outs for "All the King's Men" will be held at Murray Theatre Sunday at 2 and Monday and Tuesday at 8. All residents of the Princeton community are invited to attend the Open House Sunday evening and to try out for parts in "All the King's Men."

THEY WILL DIRECT

New Officers Chosen. Princeton Community Players has elected new officers to serve the group for the coming year.

Garrison Ellis will be the new president. Shirley Kauffman will be vice-president, Lorin Zissman, second vice-

"PJ & B" Is Back

The Princeton-Junction-and-Back Players, who took a successful trip last spring with "Guys and Dolls," are ready to set off again this spring with another musical production.

Try-outs will be held Thursday, March 8, and next Sunday, March 11, for professionals and for amateurs who think they are as good as professionals. Rehearsals will start about April 1 for performances April 27 and 28.

Milton Lyon, who directed "Guys and Dolls," has not chosen the musical yet. He is waiting to see what kind of talent is uncovered in the auditions.

Appointments should be made by calling McCarter Theatre, WA 1-8700.

TO YOUR HONORABLE ASTRONAUT: Everybody gets into congratulatory act as Rosalind Russell and Sir Alec Guinness drink a toast to Col. Glenn in a scene from "A Majority of One," continuing through Tuesday (at the Playhouse.) The adaptation from the stage hit offers a new twist on the traditional young romance caught between East and West.

"JONAH" TO BE GIVEN

In University Chapel. A modern German play, "The Sign of Jonah," will be given by the Chapel Deacons this Thursday, Friday and Saturday and next Friday and Saturday in the University Chapel at 8:40.

Written by Guenther Rutenborn, an East German Lutheran pastor who suffered at the hands of both Nazis and Communists for his opinions on church-state relationships, "Jonah" has as its basis an enactment of Judgment Day, but achieves its force by subtle comparisons between the reality of the play and the reality of life in Germany today.

The cast is headed by Dan Deitch, a freshman who will be remembered for his Sir Francis Chesney in "Charley's Aunt" last fall, and for his performance in the Community Players' production of "The Country Wife."

Bruce Dunning, who also appeared in the "The Country Wife" and who has appeared before in "Jonah," will co-star with Deitch. Other roles will be played by Kate Lever, Christine Westwood, Harry Weber, Slater Crawford, Steve Kimmian, Winslow Myers, C. D. Smith and Neil MacDougall

Kate Jordan will serve as stage manager. The performances are free, and no collections will be taken.

THE PLAYHOUSE

A Majority of One (February 26-March 6) is the film adaptation of the stage hit starring Gertrude Berg and Sir Cedric Hardwicke. While the stage limitations were perfect for a domestic comedy of this type, the big screen merely magnifies the relative triteness of the situation.

The story concerns a Jewish widow from Brooklyn and her romance with a Japanese businessman. The resulting screenplay is a mish-mash of sentimentality, comedy, surface moralizing on bigotry and lengthy speeches and situations.

Rosalind Russell ("Auntie Mame") is improbably cast as the Jewish widow, while Sir Alec Guinness is just as improbably cast as the industrialist. Neither can master the accents, and the result is unnerving. The picture is in color. It ranges from Brooklyn to an ocean voyage to Japan and back. It is too long. Comment: Molly Goldberg—all at sea.

Sergeants 3 (March 7-13). If Frank Sinatra and his fellow "Clan" members ever decide to make a serious picture, it should be a dramatic bombshell from the point of view of talent. However, they continue to point their efforts to comedy, and the result is fun for them and the audience.

"Sergeants" is a satire on the old epic, "Gunga Din," shifted to the American frontier. Sinatra, Peter Lawford and Dean Martin are the three sergeants; Sammy Davis, Jr., is the waterboy; and Joey Bishop and the Crosby brothers show up, too. The film is played strictly for laughs, and if you are amused by the antics of the "clan," you will love it.

The script was probably ad-lib, with lots of private jokes, but the pace is fast enough to cover over the bad lines and cliches. High points include a magnificent poker game with Martin and the inevitable last-minute rescue. In color and wide-screen. Comment: a real nice clambake.

THE GARDEN

The Five-Day Lover (March 1-6) is the third of director Philippe De Broca's sophisticated French comedies, the others being "The Love Game" and "The Joker." Using the same techniques of a slight framework of plot and Jean-Pierre Cassel as the gigolo, De Broca has again whipped up a frothy, bedroom farce, at least on the surface.

Jean Seberg (who flopped on the American screen, then went to Europe and is one of France's top actresses) plays a young Englishwoman living in Paris. Her affair with Cassel, who is being kept by another woman (Micheline Presle), is the focus of the plot. The comic climax occurs when Miss Seberg, her husband and Cassel attend a party given by Miss Presle.

As the picture ends, however De Broca comments that nothing has really changed. The heroine has given up her current affair, but there will be others. And the 90 minutes of humor, farce and hilarity turn into a comment on a society with no meaning in its life. Comment: a fresh, frothy brew — with a bite.

A Summer to Remember (March 7-13) is another import from Russia under the continuing cultural exchange program. From the same studio that produced last year's powerful "Ballad of a Soldier," this film has the same qualities of simplicity and universalism without propaganda.

Set in modern Russia, the story could take place anywhere in the world. It concerns a young boy, Borya Barkhatov, who suddenly realizes that his mother has remarried and his father will live with them. The complete change in the youngster's entire world, shattered first by the loss of his father and now by the newcomer to the affections of his mother, is studied in dramatic detail.

As the film ends with a symbolic transfer of locale, the boy begins to show the beginnings of maturity in a hostile world. Young Barkhatov is a charming boy with a talent certain to be envied in Hollywood. The picture has won awards at the Stratford and Karlovy Vary International Film Festivals. Comment: excellent Russian insight.

THE WRIGHT HAT

Because Spring Will Come. Yes, it will. Because it always has, and suppose you were caught on March 21 without a flowered hat?

The Betty Wright Shop, now owned, as you undoubtedly know, by Mrs. Helen Glover, is prepared to harvest any kind of flowered hat you want, and send you off in the spring sunshine properly clad.

One hat is a shaggy toque of green nylon feathers with a touch of carrot at the tip of the green now and then. The shag covers the whole hat, which is basically light green, if you peer underneath.

A companion hat is a pink bucket of petunias and various things, each one a different shade of pink, each one determined to out-shag the other. Base of this hat is pink, if you hadn't guessed.

Then we move on to a hat-and-bag set on which the flowers have been embroidered, tapestry-style, in greyed blues, pinks and greens against an oyster white background. The hat has a deep, flexible, narrow crown and a medium brim, the bag has generous dimensions and a frame and handle of bone leather.

The same shape appears in a white hat with black squiggles embroidered all over it and little paisley commas filled in among the squiggles. The matching bag has a black patent frame and gussets.

If you're really sure it's not going to rain, you could wear the shiny white basketweave straw cloche whose basketweave design must surely mean to imitate a brick wall, because tendrils of grape ivy climb all over the crown. There is a big white flower of the kind no grape ivy vine ever produced, but we are concerned with haberdashery and not botany.

Mrs. Glover is particularly pleased with the jewelry collection for spring. In addition to the scarab bracelets, which The Betty Wright Shop has in more variations than there are bugs, you will find real stones and petrified wood smoothed to gently triangular shapes and mounted in earrings, pendants or bracelets.

The brownish tiger eye is a favorite here, of course, and so is the rose quartz, but we suggest you look at a marbeled jade bracelet, flat, with small circles of gold between each irregular stone. Other bracelets dangle their stones, but this one holds them flat against the wrist.

Sets are $3 — earrings and pendant—and bracelets are $3, too, and all are guaranteed against breaking.

Just for fun — real feathers made into minute butterflies with dewy wings, dangling from a gold barette to bring a touch of glitter to your hair . . . a round, brushed brass knick-knack box, three inches round, on three ball feet with floral pattern on top . . . a $2 portable ashtray to slip in your purse.

ITALY KNITS FOR YOU

Bamberger's Holds the Stitches. The Italian Navy is out in force this spring at Bamberger's, where you'll salute some of the sauciest navy knit suits you ever saw. Other colors, too, of course, but it's the navy that will catch your eye.

One two-piecer, for example, has a white band around its cardigan front and collarless neck, and impudent two-inch white starfish sewn in a pleasant random scattering over the front of the jacket. Skirt is sober and straight.

Another has a longer cardigan with a cowl neck and three white bands, each narrow as a ribbon, around the body of the jacket. On each side of the front are little flat white bows, anchored to the white band, but showing a white silhouette against the navy ground. This suit comes in a soft, sunset pink as well as in navy.

A permanently pleated accordion skirt underscores another white-piped navy, this one with a slightly longer, almost elbow sleeve with a raglan shoulder, and ornate antiqued brass buttons. Have it in pale beige with even paler piping, if you wish.

On the three-piece side, there's a cap-sleeved overblouse under a jacket that substitutes a two-inch band for the usual buttons. And there's a pale peach with deep apricot overblouse, crew necked, under a jacket with lapels. This comes in pale turquoise, too, with a bright turquoise overblouse under it, if you follow us.

A white knit would be dazzling for spring. Look at this one with a deep mustard band around its lapels and down its front, styled the same with deep grey band against light grey.

If wool makes you squirm, Bamberger's has an acrylic fibre from England, fashioned into a flared skirt and an overblouse with a tailored bow at the neck side. It's mocha, with a deep chocolate brown trim.

JUNE APPROACHES

Weddings, Too. The Town Shop suggests that, if you are planning a June wedding, you drop by to browse among the china patterns, choosing the one you want so that the shop will be able to tell your friends just which pieces to buy.

New patterns at the shop begin with three from Limoges: "Mon Jardin," whose garden grows around a central rose (ample, straight-sided coffee cup in this set); "Ceralene," a basketweave border with a royal blue carnation centered

I Want That Hat

And so will every envious woman who sees it on your head, this magnificently frivolous piece, built like a zigurrat and swathed with folds of airy black net.

It has a down-turning brim, carelessly scalloped, and wrapped, like the crown, with loosely folded black net. All around the brim, between it and the lofty, mounting tower of the crown, is a row of big pink camellias.

You'll find this irtoxicating—and intoxicated'—hat at The Betty Wright Shop, 144 Nassau, where it will remain to haunt you until you make up your mind to do something about it!

MUSIC
In Princeton

SATISFYING CONCERT

By Bach Aria Group. On Monday evening at McCarter Theatre, as the fourth concert in Series I of the Princeton University Concerts, the Bach Aria Group presented a full and satisfying evening of selections from the works of Johann Sebastian Bach.

The members of the Bach Aria Group, which is directed by its founder, Mr William H Scheide of Princeton, are Julius Baker, flute; Robert Bloom, oboe; Eileen Farrell, soprano; Norman Farrow, bass-baritone; Bernhard Greenhouse, 'cello; Jan Peerce, tenor; Carol Smith, alto; Paul Ulanowsky, piano; and Maurice Wilk, violin. The details of the program are too lengthy to list here in full; there were arias for all the singers with various instrumental combinations, duets, and ensemble numbers, as well as a generous selection from the secular cantata "Der zufriedengestellte Aeolus."

With a few exceptions, nearly all the music was foreign to the standard repertoire, and there lies the special virtue of Mr. Scheide's ensemble. There are, of course, over 200 cantatas by the Leipzig master, and of these not more than a handful are familiar to the average concertgoer.

Monday evening's program may have been merely a drop in the ocean as far as completing our acquaintance with this vast corpus, but one could not have asked for more in the matter of a program. It was a welcome change from the endless performances of the same few works which normally represent this composer on modern concert programs.

An important point, well worthy of special note, was the provision, in the program, of complete original texts and translations, instead of the usual scrappy little paraphrases. This should be standard practice at all programs of vocal music, the reasons being too obvious to require listing here.

It would be difficult to imagine a finer group of instrumentalists than those of the Bach Aria Group, and their contribution is quite as important as that of the singers; their music is no whit less difficult, and was never given less than its full due. The two tenor arias in the first half of the program, with flute and violin obbligatos (from Cantatas 113 and 97, respectively), and the bass aria with cello obbligato from Cantata 97, were especially noteworthy from the instrumental standpoint, and throughout the evening Mr. Ulanowsky's piano made a discreet yet enlivening contribution.

If the vocal aspect of the performance is left until the last, it is because it was somewhat less consistent. Mr. Farrow and Miss Smith were never less than satisfactory, although they are neither very imaginative singers. Miss Farrell is, at her best, a pleasure to hear, both technically and musically, although she apparently now must push for her higher notes, and her coloratura is not as securely controlled as it once was. Mr. Peerce, it must be said, is subject to the same difficulties, to a much greater degree.

One minor criticism might be directed at the wide variety of German pronunciations employed; these might well be standardized, inasmuch as the singers appear together with some frequency. However, none of this was a serious blot on an altogether unusual and rewarding evening with the genius of Johann Sebastian Bach.

ELIZABETHANS, BOTH: For its current season of Elizabethan and Jacobean plays, McCarter Theatre has retained as advisers these two Princeton musicians who are specialists in the music of the time. Mrs. E. W. Lehmann, 34 Knott Drive, left, and Mrs. Allison Dana 52 Markham Road, pause with recorders in hand to examine a piece of Elizabethan music.

PIANIST TO PERFORM

In Friends Concert. The Friends of Music at Princeton will present Robert Helps, pianist, in recital Sunday at 3.30 in 10 McCosh. The recital is open to the public without charge.

For his program, Mr. Helps has chosen a combination of well-known works and compositions of his own. He will play Mendelssohn's Piano Sonata in E Major, Opus 6, Milton Babbitt's Partitions for Piano and two of his own works, Image and Portrait for Piano.

After the intermission, he will play four selections from Debussy's Preludes, Book I and Franz Liszt's Variations on a Theme of Bach.

Mr. Helps has been particularly active in giving performances of modern music and he appeared in 1960 with the Princeton Seminar in Advanced Musical Studies. He has recently recorded Schoenberg's "Pierrot Lunaire" and, with Bethany Beardslee, two song cycles by Babbitt and Mel Powell.

CASADESUS TO PLAY

For March 12 Concert. Jean Casadesus will play with the Princeton Symphony Orchestra on Monday, March 12, in a program of Mozart and Liszt at McCarter Theatre. The Orchestra, under the direction of Nicholas Harsanyi, will present the first performances of Godfrey Winham's Composition for Orchestra, and Mozart's Symphony No 32. Tick-

Present Course "Insane."

To the Editor of Town Topics:

The following is a response to Oskar Morgenstern's letter in the issue of February 25.

Your letter states at least twice that you hope for peace. But you write that "no speedy progress towards . . . peace is in sight," and that there is now "no sign of anything new." So you opt for acceptance of the status quo and for protection against it as the only reasonable course. You protest that, even though everything involved may be uncertain, this is only common sense.

You seem to overlook that a powerful objection to this position is precisely that a man of your stature, prestige and special training may, nevertheless, be paralyzed and waiting for "signs" or for something to "be in sight." You must realize that our present course is insane and that many alternatives exist or can be invented.

These alternatives are, of course, politically untenable. But what if men with prestige and influence were looking for or supporting them?

My objection is not so much that you believe shelters to be useful or even necessary but that you are fixed in the status quo. Why should I trust the judgment of a man who admits to no good ideas?

Why should anyone listen to a man who says he is waiting to be shown and thinks it wiser for us all to wait a bit less precariously than to seek (sheltered or not) to break out of a status quo that is so obviously unfruitful?

No, I am not "playing fair." I am not countering your argument. I am indeed objecting that you have not said or done more than you have. But I do so in the hope that this letter will influence people to eye with keen suspicion the arguments or exhortations of men like yourself — men with knowledge, prestige and justified honor — who admit to or evince political resignation and intellectual timidity or paralysis in the face of our most important problems.

ROGER MAREN
Mount Lucas Road

"Shocked and Horrified."

To the Editor of Town Topics:

I would like to speak to a few points in Prof. Morgenstern's letter favoring fall-out shelters.

One, he says "when our other efforts fail." He also adds later: "the course of history is not predictable," but it appears to me that he is predicting the direst kind of defeatism and failure and eventual thermonuclear war. Is this not preparing people for the acceptance of thermonuclear war as an instrument of national policy? I am shocked and horrified by the word when.

Prof. Morgenstern also says that it is "arrogant to insist that nothing should be done." I do not know anyone who feels that "nothing should be done." The signers of the anti-fall out shelter letter to President Kennedy suggest that "effort should be directed toward a positive program for peace with freedom . . . difficult and time consuming as any preparation for war . . . will require the highest type of leadership, etc."

It has always taken courage, hard work, imagination and fortitude to turn one's face to the light and choose to live. I am appalled that so many people consider this unthinkable these pessimistic days.

PATRICIA W. HARTLE

Shelters' "Protection" False.

To the Editor of Town Topics:

Thank you for publishing the contents of the three recent letters opposing the fall-out shelter program. This issue deserves our consideration now, because nuclear arms and the means to "deliver" them bring the battlefield and the noman's land to our front door.

In accepting the very basis of a fall-out shelter program, we would be saying in effect, "Yes, we are ready to support a nuclear war; unhappy to do it, but nevertheless, willing."

We would be saying that we agree to sacrifice the population of our cities in the hopes that those fortunate wealthy few with $3-5,000 shelters in the rural areas might "arise from the ruins" and create a "new society." Surely no sane person agrees with this, and certainly no person of good faith would consider for a moment any war in which societies and not combattants are destroyed.

There is a difference between the use of force to compel and protect freedom, and the complete destruction of all disputants. Those who urge us to dig in and be less vulnerable are saying that war for them is still a reasonable thing. The protection that they offer their children, in the form of a basement cement box, against the uncomprehendable horrors of nuclear war seems so senseless that we wonder that any reasonable person could accept their encouragements.

We noted that the recent shelter-building "forum" sponsored by the Princeton Chamber of Commerce directed itself to the question of how to build shelters, as if the question of whether to build them had been settled. The chairman, in introducing the meeting, stated that the President said we should build them, and the Governor of the State of New York said we should do so. He omitted to mention that the former Governor of New Jersey wrote eloquently against the program, and the present Governor of New Jersey has written to us, stating his personal opposition to them.

We suggest that readers who consider building shelters ask themselves 1) are they really willing to accept the responsibility for a nuclear war for any reason, and 2) do they want to show the world they feel such a war so likely that they will support the shelter program.

Readers who feel that they are not willing to consider a nuclear war as a possibility might begin to think about ways to avoid war. One way to do this is to support President Kennedy's peace proposals.

Another way is to help him resist pressures to resume nuclear testing in the atmosphere by writing their support to him. A third way to help avoid war is to give support to organizations whose end is to ensure nuclear disarmament and peace. One such group in the Princeton area is the Princeton Committee for a SANE Nuclear Policy, which may be reached at WA 1-7979.

RICHARD SIEGLER M.D.
Chairman
Princeto Committee for a SANE Nuclear Policy

Strength Is Essential.

To the Editor of Town Topics:

A fallacy constantly repeated by critics of a national shelter program is that it threatens efforts toward peace. The sponsors of the Open Letter to President Kennedy in support of a shelter program are united with all who sincerely strive to achieve world peace.

Many of these sponsors have been actively working in international programs and organizations, such as the Atoms for Peace project and negotiations with Soviet authorities on cultural exchanges between the USSR and the U.S. But the peace we seek must be one that can be effectively maintained. It must not be based

According to Township police, Mr. Scasserra, who lives on the Lincoln Highway, was driving east on the Princeton-Kingston Road and rounding the gradual curve that approaches the Prospect intersection.

He lost control of the car on this curve and went into a broadside skid on the rainy pavement, leaving the road and sliding down the grassy part of the shoulder, striking a Public Service natural gas stand, breaking it, then hitting a Public Service pole

Mr. Scasserra, who is the son of Dr. and Mrs. B B Scasserra, was taken to Princeton Hospital by the First Aid and Rescue Squad. His condition is satisfactory.

INJURED ON 206

In Fog-Bound Accident. Mrs. Rocco Vendetti, 252 Mt. Lucas Road, is in Princeton Hospital recovering from an accident on fog-bound Route 206 near Sunset Road Thursday at 4 p.m.

She sustained a possible fracture of the right elbow, multiple contusions and lacerations. Mr. Vendetti was also taken to Princeton Hospital, but only for observation and was released Monday. The Vendettis collided with a truck driven by Everett Gunther of Belle Mead.

TO HONOR MARVEL

At Testimonial Dinner. United States Senator Harrison Williams, Jr., will speak on "Investments in Peace—at Home and Abroad" at the testimonial dinner being held for William W. Marvel Saturday at 8.30 at the Nassau Inn.

Besides Senator Williams, other political figures, educators and private citizens will join in the non-partisan salute to former Township Committeeman Marvel.

The dinner has been planned by the Princeton Township Democratic Forum as a tribute to the community service and leadership rendered by Mr. Marvel during his three-year term on Committee.

Tickets, at $5.50 per person, may be obtained from Mrs. I. H von Zelowitz, 9 Tyson Lane, or at the door during the reception preceding the dinner.

Mr. Casadesus will play the Mozart Concerto for Piano and Orchestra No 21 in C Major, and the Liszt Concert for Piano and Orchestra No. 1 in E Flat Major. His appearance at McCarter is part of a two-month tour of this country, including a concert with the Cleveland Symphony at the end of March.

A Princeton resident since 1940, he made his debut as soloist with Eugene Ormandy in 1947 as the winner of the Philadelphia Orchestra Youth Contest. The same year, he won the First Medal at the Geneva International Competition.

CHOIR CONCERT SET

At McCarter April 4. The Westminster Choir, under the direction of Warren Martin, will give a concert Wednesday, April 4, at 8.30 in McCarter Theatre. The program will include a "Te Deum" by Haydn, the motet for double chorus, "Komm Jesu, Komm" by Bach, three sacred motets by Heinrich Schuetz, and works by Purcell, Mendelssohn, Brahms and Mr. Martin.

The group has completed a tour of six states where nine concerts were given in 14 days.

Tickets for the April 4 concert are available at the University Store at $3, $2.50 and $2.

ELLIS PUPIL TO PLAY

This Sunday. Peter Lief, a piano pupil of John Ellis of Province Line Road, will play works by Bach, Debussy, Kramer, Shostakovich, Poulenc and Kabalevsky this Sunday at Mr. Ellis' home.

A senior at Jamesburg High School, Peter is the son of Dr. and Mrs. L. H. Lief of Jamesburg.

against the white; and "Marie Antoinette", whose gold Chippendale border presents a more formal front to the world than the patterns of the other two.

There are also other new designs, most of them with fruit, birds and flowers, but one — Royal Worcester's "Regency" — designed for a formal table, with olive green or cobalt to choose from.

Baccarat stemware (plain or cut, for hard or soft water) and Stuart crystal will fill out the table nicely. Anybody got a cookbook?

Plastic place-mats, four for $8.75 to $10.50, are plasticized foam in ecrus, pastels and whites so artfully done you can almost pluck a loose thread from the 'embroidery." A round one (hard to find round mats) is done in shades of grey with pale tulips and shaded leaves. An oval one is yellow or ecru with a Greek key border. A shell-shaped mat is off-white with embroidery in the convolutions of the shell.

Our favorite Town Shop offering is a pack of real playing cards to send that sick friend. Fifty-two different cartoons, each with a side-splitting (was it an appendectomy?) caption. We give two examples to tantalize you: "Here's my boy, doctor: he's grown another foot since we saw you last," and "I meant to tell you, doctor: these new scalpels are very sharp."

SEWERS AGAIN

In Township. Princeton's sewer system was discussed by the Township Board of Health at its February meeting, and the Board announced its support of Township Committee's recommendations on operating and maintaining the sewer system.

Committee believes that the system should be reorganized with a full-time professional engineer as its superintendent, charged with operating, maintaining and supervising the whole system, and reporting equally to Borough and Township, though independent of both.

Marcella Farley, acting health officer, reported raw sewerage in a storm drain system on Ewing Street, and said that dye tracings seemed to indicate a direct connection between toilets and the storm drain.

Board members agreed to recommend to Township Committee the immediate extension of the sewer line to serve this property and two others in the area. Dr. William Kleinberg, chairman of the Board of Health, pointed out that it was an emergency situation which required immediate action.

Further reports were made on the plan of Saverio Mangone to build a car-wash on Route 206. Frank Quinby, engineer retained by Mr. Mangone, said that the engineering firm of Roulon & Cook had informed him that there is ample water in the area to serve a car-wash without disturbing other wells.

EXHIBIT HELD OVER

At Aparri Studio. Paintings and drawings by the late Beatrice Stein, sister of Dr. Harold Stein, will remain on exhibit at the Aparri School of Dance, 217 Nassau Street, for one more week.

The studio will be open this Sunday from 3 to 6. Three previous Sunday afternoon showings have been so successful, according to Mila Gibbons, of the Aparri Studio, that the fourth Sunday has been scheduled. There is no charge.

BIRTH LIST

OPERATION "FACTS"

Chamber Tours Town. Directors of the Princeton Chamber of Commerce toured the Princeton area last week by bus in order to see for themselves the "spotlight" areas of the town.

The riders were also given information about the areas they inspected as part of "Operation Facts," designed to familiarize directors of the Chamber with the problems of the Princeton community.

The directors saw the Park Place parking lot, the genearal area where a 206-A by-pass might go, the new Faculty Road, the Westminster Choir College property currently being sought by the Borough Beard of Education and the central business area.

RCA furnished the bus in which the directors rode and ate the box-lunch provided by the Chamber.

GAY BLADES ALL

Carnival Approaches. Forty adult skaters and 99 children are rehearsing for the 1962 Princeton Ice Carnival to be held in Baker Rink March 23 and 24 at 8:30 under the auspices of the Princeton Skating Club. Part of the proceeds will go into a YWCA-YMCA capital fund ear-marked for construction of a gymnasium on Avalon Place.

The juvenile skaters will appear in an "Alice in Wonderland" number, with Liza Patterson portraying Alice. Charles Greene will be the March Hare. Barbara Ballantine will be the Mad Queen of Hearts, Charlotte Peterson the Duchess, Jack Gulick the Doormouse, Raymond Stone the Mad Hatter, Marshall Sittig the Chatterbox, Dale Marzoni the Calico Cat, and Terry Marzoni and Jimmy Quarles, Tweedle-Dee and Tweedle-Dum. Young soloists will be Holly Murphy, Diane Tyler, Pamela McCall, Marion Stoltzfus and Roxy Tibbals.

Casting has been under the direction of Mrs. Dudley E. Woodbridge and Mrs. Robert J Sullivan. Other committee chairman are Mrs. Howard W. Brackney, tickets; Mrs. William H. Sword, ushers; Lewis Morton and William Barnes, lights; H. Yale Tyler and Mr. Woodbridge, music and Lester Tibbals, Jr., make-up.

Also Mrs. MacDonald Mathey, patrons; Mrs. Leonard E. Newton, luncheon for guest skaters; Mrs. George R. Webster, entertainment for guest skaters; Mrs. Edward R. Farley, Jr., advertising solicitor and Mrs. Harold Vaughn Jr. and Donald L. Evans, publicity.

Food will be provided at Baker Rink during the performances by the YWCA's Business and Professional Club. Mrs. Oscar J Owen, chairman.

Approximately 150 attended the dinner and listened to speakers tell them how to increase the present 800 adult enrollment to 1000. Stuart Duncan was master of ceremonies, and Oliver Gluyas and J. P. Meyer were the speakers. Charles Hurford provided piano music.

"Spark-Plugs" who attended are George F. Aberle, Jr., Robert W. Sinkler, Kenneth Paul R. Benson, J. William H. Sternkopf, Miles W. Trues-Blattenberger, Sylvan G. Bu-dell, Howard B. Waxwood, Jr., shey, Wiley H. Critz, Ralph John S. Mount, Mr. Hurford W. D'Atri, Robert C. Decker, and Mrs. Gluyas.
William Dettmar, Romeo R. Favreau, William S. Field.

Also Walter F. Fullam, Maurice Glicksman, Richard D. Hoyt, Larry J. Ivan, Foster D. Jemison, Norman D. Kelley, Howard R. Lane, Jerome J. Lawson, Daniel A. Mazzarella, Nathaniel McLean, Charles Petzold, George Povilaitis,

PROFESSOR TAKES OVER

In Kennedy School. David Donald, professor of history at Princeton, gave an hour-long lecture on the Reconstruction period last week to the country's most exclusive night school: the "New Frontier" school that usually meets at Hickory Hill, the home of Attorney General Robert Kennedy.

The two permanent Hickory Hill faculty members, Arthur M. Schlesinger, Jr. and Walt Whitman Rostow, were, respectively, in India and in Paris, and Dr. Donald was invited to lecture in their absence.

The class was held in the White House, Hickory Hill's tenant being away, and President Kennedy served as headmaster for the evening, taking an active part in the discussion period that followed Dr. Donald's lecture. Talk centered around the question of Lincoln's reputation, and whether it would have been lowered if he had lived on through the Reconstruction.

Dr. Donald is the author of "Lincoln Reconsidered" and a two-volume biography of Charles Sumner. He lives at 38 Dodds Lane.

HUSBANDS INVITED

To Goucher Affair. Husbands and guests have been invited to a supper meeting of the Goucher Club of Princeton next Tuesday at 6:30. The gathering will be held at the home of Mrs. Jack P. McLusky, 89 Meadowbrook Drive.

Sherodd Albritton, professor of music at Goucher, will speak to the group following a short business meeting. Members of the Trenton Goucher Club will join the group for dessert and coffee before the meeting.

DRIVER FINED $15

For Speeding. Mrs. Phyllis B. Green, 41, 299 Edgerstoune Road, was fined $15 by Borough Magistrate Theodore T. Tams, Jr. Monday for speeding. She pleaded guilty.

In criminal court, Anderson Lawrence, Jr., 18, of Jamesburg, pleaded guilty to a charge of assault and was fined $15. He was accused of striking Miss Mattie Bedford in the face as she was leaving the Princeton Playhouse. Miss Bedford lives on John Street.

AUXILIARY TO MEET

In Rocky Hill. Members of the Rocky Hill Volunteer Fire Company Ladies Auxiliary will meet Wednesday, March 14, at 8 p.m. at the Firehouse on Washington Street.

A "Stanley Party" will be held at the meeting, and all women who wish to attend are invited.

WHERE SHOULD THEY RIDE? Two members of the small army of children who ride their bikes to school or around town are Nancy Tomlinson (left) and Lilli Baker. Whether they should be allowed to ride on certain sidewalks or be kept on the streets is a question over which the Borough Traffic Safety Committee is concerned. (Staff Photo)

Question of the Week

Question: It is illegal for children to ride bicycles on the sidewalks in Princeton. Would you favor or oppose a proposed ordinance that would permit children to ride on certain sidewalks on their way to and from school?

Where asked: Nassau Street.

Nancy Tomlinson, 9, 14 Alexander Street, Miss Fine's School: I'd like it because I'd rather ride on the sidewalks. You sort of get blocked off and squeezed by cars and big trucks when you ride on the street. My parents tell me not to ride in the streets.

Lilli Baker, 10, 142 Mercer Street, Nassau Street School: I think we should be allowed to ride on the sidewalks. Once a cop told me I wasn't supposed to ride on the sidewalks but when you ride the streets, the trucks block your way. I think it is too dangerous to ride in the streets.

Miss Catherine Edwards, 12 Boudinot Street, children's nurse: Definitely. I think it is a disgrace for children to have to ride on the road with the rest of the cars. They should be allowed to ride on the sidewalks or there should be special walks provided for them.

Donald Heisel, 119 Bayard Lane, researcher for Office of Population Research, Princeton University: It would depend on what sidewalks were involved. If there were heavy pedestrian traffic on the sidewalk, bikes would be in the way. On the other hand, some streets in town are dangerous for bike riding. So I would be in favor of it with qualifications.

Mrs. Thomas Tennyson, Rocky Hill Road, secretary: No, I don't think cyclists should be permitted on any sidewalks in town. They definitely are a hazard, especially to little children and mothers. They should follow the traffic regulations on the streets; at the same time, motorists should be careful of and have consideration for those on bikes. I feel cyclists tend to ride more carefully on the streets. If we let them on sidewalks, I think they would ride any old haphazard way.

Ludwig Ries, Forest Hills, Long Island, manufacturer's representative: We have the same problem in Forest Hills. The kids have permission to ride on the sidewalks and it has worked out. They know they have to be careful. There is some source of irritation when you sense a bike bearing down behind you and you don't know for certain which way to turn. This is especially true of older people, who don't walk too easily or don't have too good sight. They get scared easily. But it is good for the kids to get away from the heavy traffic. We never allowed our child to ride a bike when she was small because of the problem of heavy traffic.

Mrs. William Easton, 218-A Harrison Street, housewife: It would depend on what sidewalks and also the children's behavior. If, for example, a kid misbehaves on his bike and hits someone, then I think there should be some regulations whereby he would not be able to ride on the sidewalks any more for the purpose of going to and from school. And it has happened—people have been hit by kids on bikes.

Mrs. Lois Dodge, 215 Hodge Hall, Princeton Seminary, housewife-student: Yes, because I think it is better than having them ride in the streets . . as long as the adults are aware of the situation and what sidewalks are involved.

Bob Grove, 13, 191 Riverside Drive, Valley Road School: Yes, I think it should be allowed. Most bikes do have bells on them or some means of alerting the people that they are coming. It is also possible for a bike to go off the sidewalk if a person doesn't get out of the way. I ride on the streets mostly because it's faster and you don't have to watch out for people. If they did set aside certain sidewalks just for bikes, I'd ride on them.

Mrs. J. E. Moore, Monmouth Junction, housewife: On certain sidewalks, yes, because it is dangerous for children to ride in the streets. But not on every sidewalk, especially not a busy one like Nassau. If the children did have certain sidewalks of their own, it would be much safer for both children and adults.

Billy Frothingham, 10, Elm Lane, Princeton Country Day School: I usually ride on the sidewalks because I think they are a little safer. But when I go to school, I ride on the streets because they are easier and quicker. But when I just ride around, I go on the sidewalks.

Mrs. O'Connell Farley, 120 Prospect Avenue, secretary: Yes, definitely. If they are permitted to ride on the sidewalks adjacent to a busy thorough-upon the sacrifice of the freedom of countries that do not wish to pass under the yoke of Soviet Russia and its satellites.

The supporters of shelters share with our opponents the wish for a better world. But the harsh realities of the brutal world power-struggle today cannot be ignored any more than those of the 1930's should have been.

The tragic fate of Hungary and of Tibet should not be forgotten. The expanding military strength of Soviet Russia and Communist China threaten the independence of America's allies and of neutral nations from southwest Asia to Western Europe and Latin America.

We must rise above the terror that comes from dwelling only on the harm others may do to us, or to our urban populations, and realize that we must have equal concern for the harm done to people outside our national borders, when they lose their freedom.

Morally, because all men, not just our countrymen, are our brothers, and their loss of freedom should sadden all of us who cherish our own freedom. Strategically, because, if we allow our Allies and the neutrals to be taken over one by one, that will hasten the day when their territories with all their military and economic resources will be used against us.

The United States and its Allies, therefore, must increase their strength through a comprehensive, flexible system of deterrence and defense so as to resist aggression or the threat of aggression. We must feel powerful enough to stand up against nuclear blackmail. It is better to bargain from strength than from weakness as Chamberlain learned to his sorrow at Munich. A national shelter program, based upon community co-operation, will enable the United States to carry on genuinely effective peace-negotiations with the USSR.

These hopes for Soviet realism about our military strength, and wisdom about the need for establishing an enduring, just peace may not be realized. In that case, at least we shall have helped to increase the chances for saving millions of lives that otherwise might have been needlessly destroyed in a thermonuclear war.

More Teachers, Higher Pay.

To the Editor of Town Topics:

Beneath the confused and muddy prose of the letter of Mr. Diederich in last week's issue of Town Topics is the tacit admission that the sampling technique now in use at the Princeton High School does not constitute a first-rate method of teaching students to write or of handling the recent increase in the number of themes required in their English classes. "None of us—certainly not Herman Ward—embraced the idea of a 'quality control' sample with enthusiasm," remarks Mr. Diederich, "since we know that students like the teacher to see all their work." Certainly if Mr. Diederich is not enthusiastic about the method which circumstances forced the Princeton High School to adopt, it is entirely right to assume that he considers that method to be second-rate.

Since I expressed the same opinion about the sampling technique in my letter in a previous issue of Town Topics, I believe I am correct in concluding that there is no major issue in dispute between Mr. Diederich and myself.

As for the letter by Dr. Stroup in Town Topics in answer to mine, I should like to make only one comment. Dr. Stroup refers to the sampling technique as if it were a significant scientific experiment. But (if I may paraphrase Voltaire's comment about the Holy Roman Empire) the sampling technique is neither significant nor scientific nor an experiment in any careful and exact sense of these words. It is merely an expedient.

"An expediment," says Webster's New International Dictionary, "is a device or contrivance which serves (frequently in lieu of something better) to accomplish a given end." Does not this definition perfectly express what the sampling technique is. And does it not explain why Mr. Diederich has no enthusiasm for the sampling technique, and why he recognizes that a better method would be to create the opportunity for a teacher to see all of a student's work?

If we must use the sampling technique, let us call it an expedient, and let us work towards the better method suggested by Mr. Diederich. The problem, of course, is to increase the number of English teachers in our high schools. This problem is complicated, to be sure.

I would suggest two concurrent approaches: 1) that of increasing the salaries of all high school teachers so as to reward them more adequately for their dedicated work and at the same time to attract into their profession a greater number of college graduates; and 2) that of revising state certification laws so as to remove stupid requirements now acting to deter qualified college graduates from becoming high school teachers.

PRIZES AWARDED

For "Safety" Essays. Brenda Samuels and Caralee Walton won first prizes in the junior and high school divisions, respectively, of the Princeton Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution essay contest on "Safety." Both girls are members of the Morven Society, Children of the American Revolution.

In the junior division, Sally Rechif won second prize, Gail Lyman was awarded third prize, and Mary Woodbridge and Mary Young won honorable mentions. Judy Ensminger, of the Dr. Roger Park Society of CAR, won second prize in the high school division.

Judges of the contest were Magistrate Theodore T. Tams, Jr., chairman of the Borough Safety Council, and council member Mrs. Simeon Hutner. The awards were presented at the regular meeting of the Daughters of the American Revolution, in the home of Mrs. John H. Meyer, 148 Library Place.

MOTOR LODGE OPENS

On Route 1 Location. A new Howard Johnson Motor Lodge, comprising 60 units, had its official opening last week. Located on Route One and Franklin Road, half-way between Princeton and Trenton, its companion restaurant will open the first week in March.

All 60 units are lavishly furnished, with wall-to-wall carpeting, sound-proofing, air conditioning and television. Special emphasis has been placed on building units for permanent or semi-permanent residency.

The grounds are landscaped in the tropical motif, with a private patio surrounding a modern swimming pool. The restaurant is to have a dining capacity of 100.

At Gallery 100. An exhibition of photographs by Edward Weston, a nationally known photographer, will be shown in Gallery 100, 100 Nassau Street, from March 3 to March 23. Mr. Weston became the first recipient of a Guggenheim fellowship for work in photography in 1937.

His work reveals his special point of view that "The camera sees more than the eye." He feels that the photographer must learn to previsualize and compose the picture before taking it and refuses to cut or "crop" pictures.

Mr. Weston has explored the camera's ability to record the smallest detail of texture, line and shape with the clarity only possible through a large camera. His photos are notable for a sharpening of focus, lines and textures into simple and beautiful images.

just a nuisance on the sidewalks. Ten or older is the best time to start riding in the streets.

Mrs. Dianne DeBaer, 26 Witherspoon Street, housewife: I'm in favor of it, especially for children. I feel there is too much traffic here in Princeton for children to ride in the streets.

Jeff Dean, 13, 115 Randall Road, Valley Road School: Yes, I think we should be able to because we can't ride out in the streets—it's too busy. I feel it is a lot safer to ride on the sidewalk, if you ride slow.

Joseph J. Smith, 627 Kingston Road, Hun School junior: As a cyclist, I know that at the time the kids would be going to school the traffic is heaviest. I think it would be a good idea if certain hours were set aside for bike riders. But I do feel riding on sidewalks is dangerous for pedestrians who are shopping and not looking out for little kids. Many times I have noticed some careless kids on bikes that have almost hit shoppers.

Donald Sieja, 149 Terhune Road, Hun School junior: I'm for it if there were definite hours that they could use the sidewalks. The small children just learing to ride should be allowed to ride on the sidewalk because they lose their balance more often and lose control and are much more likely to get hit by a car. But as you get older, you are able to ride much better, and I feel it should be a "must" for all older cyclists to ride in the streets on the right hand side with the traffic. Older kids are

If our bank is only the 704th largest in the U. S., why are we so proud?

Well, why shouldn't we be? It is the highest ranking in our 127-year history (in 1953 we were ranked 1237th—1957, 844th—last year 741st). It is the 704th largest among 13,500 commercial U.S. banks. We can't help but be pleased when we think what these figures mean.

They mean we can offer complete (really complete) commercial, trust, savings and investment advisory services. They mean we can afford to have top personnel working for us. They mean we will have to work a little harder this year—and next year—and for at least another 127 years! And yet we are not striving to be the biggest bank. We will gladly settle for being the best!

When you need banking services of any kind, remember what the dramatic growth record of Princeton Bank means to you!

for the next academic year. Competitive examinations for the grant will be held Saturday, March 17, at 1 p.m., at a cost of $10.

The competition is open to Mercer County boys of promise and ability. The winner will be chosen on the basis of his score on the examination, as well as personal interviews and recommendations from his principal and teachers. The examination includes both aptitude and achievement sections.

Scholarship aid will be continued throughout the winner's secondary school career providing he maintains a satisfactory record. Application blanks are available from all Mercer County public and parochial schools as well as the director of admissions. Entrance examinations for candidates not seeking aid will be given the same day.

ARCHEOLOGIST TO SPEAK

On Israel. "Underwater Archeology in Israel" is the topic chosen by Dr. Charles Fritsch for a talk he will give before the Women's College Club Monday at 8 in the Unitarian Church.

Professor of Old Testament at Princeton Theological Seminary, Dr. Fritsch did archeological work in the Holy Land in 1954 and in 1960 was American archeologist for the Link Underwater Exploration project in Caesarea.

Obituaries

Mrs. Emilie Meddaugh Stuart, 88, a resident of Princeton for more than half a century, died February 23 at Princeton Hospital. She had lived since 1927 at 60 Battle Road, but two years prior to her death had moved to Our Lady of Princeton on Cedar Grove Road.

Mrs. Stuart was the widow of Prof. Duane R. Stuart, a faculty member at Princeton University for nearly four decades until his death in 1941. Prof. Stuart was chairman of the Department of Classics, having come here as one of the original "preceptor guys" under Woodrow Wilson in 1905.

Born in Detroit, Mich., she attended the Boston Conservatory of Music. She and Prof. Stuart were married in 1898.

Mrs. Stuart is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Arthur B. Perry of Milton, Mass., and Mrs. Paul F. Norton of Amherst, Mass.; two sons, D. Reed Stuart and Douglas E. Stuart of Princeton; ten grandchildren and a great-grandchild.

A memorial service was held in the Princeton University Chapel with Dean Ernest Gordon officiating. Interment was in Greenshorn, Vt., where her husband is buried. Arrangements were in charge of the Mather Funeral Home.

Dr. Hu Shih, 70, a former member of the University faculty, died February 24 in Taipei, Formosa. China's ambassador to this country from 1938 to 1942, he was a Fellow of the University Library and curator of the Gest Oriental Library during 1950 and 1951.

Following graduation from Cornell University and completion of his doctorate at Columbia University in 1917, Dr. Hu returned to China and instigated the use of spoken language in literature instead of the traditional formal writing. He was TOWN TOPICS' "Man of the Week" on December 31, 1950.

During the 1920's, he condemned both the Communist and Nationalist parties. With the Japanese invasion, he joined the National Front and later served as a delegate to the first United Nations meeting.

Since 1958, Dr. Hu was head of the Academia Sinica, Nationalist China's highest research center, located in Nanking. He held honorary degrees from 32 institutions.

Mrs. Mary A. Keenan, 88, of 19 Bank Street, died in Trenton on February 23. Born in England, she had lived here for the past 50 years.

Mrs. Keenan was the widow of John A. Keenan and is survived by a sister, Mrs. Elizabeth J. Doig of San Francisco. The service was held at the Kimble Funeral Home, followed by requiem high mass at St. Paul's Church. Burial was in the parish cemetery.

Carl H. Ruopp, 53, of 2645 Main Street, Lawrenceville, died February 23 of a heart attack in his apartment. He had been the proprietor of the Lawrence Pharmacy for the past 10 years.

Mr. Ruopp leaves a son, Carl H. Jr., a student at Lawrence Junior High School and a daughter, Christina, a student at Bucknell College. The service was held at a Trenton funeral home, with the Rev. H. Dana Fearon, pastor of the Lawrenceville Presbyterian Church, officiating. Burial was in Riverview Cemetery, Trenton.

Mrs. Filomena D'Andrea, 68, formerly of Church Street, Kingston, died February 24 at the home of her sister, Mrs. J. A. Colocc of Franklin, Mass. She was the widow of Peter D'Andrea.

Requiem high mass was celebrated at St. Paul's Church, Princeton, with interment in the parish cemetery under the direction of the Kimble Funeral Home.

Mrs. Lizzie E. Dallas, 87, of 51 Columbia Avenue, Hopewell, died February 22. The widow of Charles Dallas, she is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Sarah Baker of Lambertville; three sons, Harry L. and Oliver R. Wilson, both of Hopewell, and Walter H. Wilson of Robbinsville; 12 grandchildren, and 30 great-grandchildren.

The Rev. Edward Thorne of the Hopewell Methodist Church officiated at the funeral, held in Flemington. Burial was in Highland Cemetery, Hopewell.

Mrs. Florie Teague Herron, 63, of 290 Witherspoon Street, died February 25 in Helene Fuld Hospital, Trenton, after a long illness. A Princeton resident for 39 years, she was born in Barksdale, S. C., and was the widow of Garnell Herron Sr. She was a member of the Mount Pisgah A.M.E. Church, the Gospel Chorus of the church, and the auxiliary of Charles Robinson Post 218, American Legion.

Surviving are a daughter, Mrs. Bessie Moody; a son, Garnell Jr.; her mother, Mrs. Bessie Teague, all of Trenton; two sisters, Mrs. Mabel Clarby of Lawrence, S. C., and Mrs. Louise Meyers of Trenton; three brothers, Henry and Irven, both of Trenton, and Andrew of Princeton; six grandchildren, and several nieces and nephews.

The funeral was held at the Mount Pisgah Church with the Rev. A. D. Tyson officiating. Burial was in Princeton Cemetery.

Why doesn't everyone in the world...

have phone service as good as ours?

One of the most overlooked reasons is the fact that we in America do things differently.

Here, companies like ours have been allowed the freedom to put individual initiative—and profits—to work to serve you. People own the Telephone Company—not the government, as in most other lands.

As a result, you enjoy the most advanced communications in the world. And you pay less for your phone service, in relation to wages, than do people in any other country.

Today, you can call anyone you know—dialing directly in most cases. And you can take your pick of telephone instruments—whether it be a phone in a color to match your bedroom or a Data-phone that lets business machines "talk" to one another.

Soon you will see many new communications advances: phones that dial your calls automatically, worldwide dialing and TV via satellites. As continuing innovations result from Bell Laboratories research and Western Electric manufacturing—you can depend on New Jersey Bell to bring the latest to you.

SPORTS
In Princeton

SEASON NEARS END

For Winter Teams. A winter season unmarked by a Princeton championship in any sport will near its close this weekend. Third place is within reach of the basketball, hockey, squash and swimming teams in their respective leagues — all of which are dominated by one of their two Big Three rivals.

The upcoming weekend will be as busy as any of the winter season, with four teams in action here. Columbia and Cornell will round out the basketball season in Dillon Gym on Friday and Saturday nights. Dartmouth's hockey team will skate against the Tigers in Baker Rink, starting at 2 Saturday, with the Indians' swimming team here at 3:30. At 4, Cornell—already winner of the Ivy wrestling crown—will meet Princeton in Dillon Gym.

CAMPBELL EYES MARK

Needs 41 Points. If senior Pete Campbell can collect a total of 41 points against Columbia and Cornell, he will set a three-year scoring record in the Ivy Basketball League. From 1955-57, Columbia's Chet Forte made 859 points; Campbell, with 819 since his sophomore year is within range of establishing a new mark.

He should have no trouble topping 20 against last-place Columbia Friday but it may be a different story as he closes out his career the following evening. At Ithaca, he was held to nine points last month while the Tigers were dropping a low-scoring game, 45 to 43.

The individual scoring title for 1962 is probably out of Campbell's reach, since he trails Steve Spahn, Dartmouth gunner, by 15. The latter takes far more shots than Campbell, whose floor average is much higher, but the point-spread favors Spahn with two games left apiece.

The Tigers boosted their standing in the league last weekend with a 73-65 victory at Cambridge and a 77-66 triumph at Hanover. Four of the regulars — Campbell, Captain Al Kaemmerlen, Bill Haarlow and Art Hyland were in double figures both nights, and Jack Whitehouse averaged 10.5, although held to eight at Dartmouth.

The Orange and Black had matters pretty much its own way at Cambridge, leading all the way as Campbell paced the attack with 23 points. Seventh-place Dartmouth made a battle of it at Hanover, losing at the foul line when it had a deficit of only one field goal but trailed, 17 to 8, in free throws.

DEFENSE BREAKS DOWN

As Hockey Team Loses. Ability to score five goals, including a hat trick by Johnny Cook, was more than offset by persistent defensive difficulties as the hockey team lost Saturday to Cornell, 7 to 5. The Ithacans peppered goalie Bill Hill with 47 shots on target as they recorded their first victory over Princeton in the sport since 1911.

Jerry Kostandoff went Cook one better as he came up with a rare four-goalperformanceto a rare four-goal performance to nail down the triumph. The Tigers were off to short-lived leads of 1-0 and 2-1, but fell far behind in the second period as they yielded four goals. While the victors were maintaining a steady tattoo of 17 shots at Hill, Princeton got off only four at the Cornell cage.

From a 6-3 deficit as the third period opened, the home team fought back on goals by Jimmy Hyland and Cook to narrow the gap, but Kostandoff's final goal at 15.45 put the game out of reach. The triumph enabled Cornell to finish its Ivy season with a fine 7-3 record in the league and ability to defeat every team at least once.

The performance of the Tigers' first line was outstanding as it accounted for all five goals. As it has been all season long, the problem is a near total lack of depth behind Cook, Hyland and Dave Hersey, and on defense after Austie Sullivan.

SWIMMERS LOSE TO YALE

Upset Visions Drowned. From the moment that favored Yale won the opening medley relay race in a fine 3:40.2, Princeton's visionary thoughts of upsetting the powerful Elis for the first time since 1938 were given a thorough wet-blanket treatment. By meet's end, the Tigers had set three University records but lost, 60 to 35.

Tip-off was the fact that two of the new marks (in the butterfly and the individual medley) were only good for second place. Taking both relays and holstered by a double in the 50 and the 100-yard freestyle by Mike Austin, who earlier had brought the medley relay team from behind with a fine anchor leg, Yale made a shambles of what had figured to be a colser meet.

A victory over Dartmouth on Saturday will, however, give the Tigers firm possession of third place. Despite the losses to Harvard and Yale, the season was one of steady progress and of numerous new pool and university records credited to Coach Bob Clotworthy's swimmers.

PHS, LAKEWOOD TO MEET

In Tournament Game. For the first time since 1956, Princeton High School will participate in the Group 3 NJSIAA post season tournament. The Little Tigers will meet their first round opponent, Lakewood, Saturday evening at 7 at Convention Hall, Asbury Park.

The game will be the first of a double-header. Pennington High School and Manasquan will clash in the second contest.

PHS coach Tony Borzok reported that he understood Lakewood's record this season to be 18-3. PHS is currently 15-3. Last year, according to Borzok, Lakewood reached the semi-finals in Group 2 play with a team composed mostly of juniors.

"It's going to be a real tough ball game, no doubt about that," said Borzok. Two things that he feels Princeton High has going for it is that Lakewood probably hasn't run up against anything like the type of defense the Blue and White has used with so much success this year and that the shore five has a weak bench. "They may have a sixth man, but nothing much beyond that," Borzok said. "They've been going with an iron man squad all year."

If the Blue and White manages to get by Lakewood, the competition will, most certainly, get rougher. "Group 3 looks like the strongest group in the state this year," said Borzok. "Some of the schools have fabulous records." Among those he singled out were Neptune, 19-0, ttwice conquerer of Lakewood this season); Somerville, 17-1, 172-62 victor over PHS in mid-season); and Keyport with a 16-3 record.

Also auguring well for PHS Saturday are the return of Danny Brown and practice time. Brown, who has been battling pneumonia, returned to the court against South Brunswick Friday. "His timing is way off and he doesn't have

Dog Show Sunday

The fourth annual Obedience Trial of the Princeton Dog Training Club will be held Sunday, from 10 to 4 in the Princeton High School gymnasium. Some 135 purebred dogs have been entered, including a number of the best obedience dogs in the East.

The dogs will compete for ribbons and prizes as well as work for their American Kennel Club degrees. The show is open to the public with a slight admission charge. Children must be accompanied by an adult. Further information about the show or the training club may be obtained from Mrs. Francis Austin or Mrs. Walker Bleakney.

his touch yet," said Borzok, "but he definitely is strong under the boards. He got his share of rebounds and we'll need that against Lakewood."

The team has also been fortunate in that it has had time to practice its defense and work on its plays. The only game it played during the week before its meeting with Lakewood was its finale against Hamilton on Tuesday.

(See page 21)

The Blue and White warmed up to its big game by defeating South Brunswick Friday evening on its home court, 77 to 43. It was its 15th victory.

George Tucker hit on 12 of 20 field goal attempts and added three foul throws to lead with 27 points. Charlie Pemberton added 22 more and Hank Scmidt 13. PHS outscored the visitors, 20 to 5, in the third quarter to take the game out of reach.

ETS, SANNINO LEAD

In Industrial Basketball. Both leaders in the Industrial Basketball League registered easy victories last week. ETS walloped winless Food Machinery and Chemical, 81 to 39. Joe Patnick and Al Meyers each scored 20 points to account for half of the victors total. Pete Van Wunnik led the losers with 18 points.

Bob Kehne of Sannino hit for 22 points to help send Institute for Defense Analyses to its sixth defeat in 10 outings. The score was 55-33. Roger Cole and Bob Easton had nine apiece for IDA.

In the closest game, RCA Labs (6-3) edged YMCA, 50 to 47. Joe Burns led the Labmen with 14 points while the Y's Ray Cevera tallied 22 points to share high scoring honors for the evening with Bob Kehne of Sannino. The defeat dropped the Y into a third place tie with RCA Astro (4-5), which had a bye.

IVY LEAGUERS TO DINE

At Washington Crossing Inn. The eighth annual Ivy League Dinner will be held next Thursday at the Washington Crossing Inn. Among the visitors will be Buff Donelli, Columbia football coach; William Campbell, 1961 Columbia captain; Paul McKee, Harvard end coach; and Alex Hart, 1961 Harvard captain.

Rex Morgan, Philadelphia television personality, will be the guest speaker. Trenton Times publisher James Kerney, Jr. will serve as toastmaster. The League will present silver trays to Campbell and Hart for sharing the Ivy football title this past season.

The event is open to all Ivy college alumni in the Delaware Valley area. Tickets will be available at the Inn and further information is available from Richard Lanahan at WA 4-0789.

HUN BEATS MOORESTOWN

Coach Assumes New Post. The Hun School basketball team defeated Moorestown Wednesday for the second time this season, 63 to 45, after having lost its last seven games in a row. The game was played at the Princeton Seminary gymnasium.

Tradition Continued

The tradition that has seen Princetonians play a part in virtually every Andover-Exeter hockey game for the past 25 years was continued Saturday as Andover defeated its ancient rival, 2 to 1.

Bill Smoyer, a member of Andover's first line, assisted on the Blue's first goal and scored the second. John Odden was a member of the third line which helped give the victors a majority of the shots on goal, while Captain Charlie Stuart completed three years as a starting defenseman during which Exeter scored a total of three goals in the series.

Andover, which finished the season with a 14-4 mark, has not lost to a prep or high school rival in more than two years. Coach Ted Harrison said that Stuart is the only player in Andover hockey history to captain a team which won the Lawrenceville Tournament by recording three successive shutouts and who never played on a team that lost to Exeter or St. Paul's.

The contest, number 14 of a 15-game schedule, upped Hun's record to 4-10. For Dan Barren, it was his next to last as coach of the Red and Black team. He has accepted an offer from Delbarton in northern New Jersey where he will serve as head basketball coach and as line coach of the school's football squad. He served Hun in a similar capacity for the past two years.

Hun broke open a close game in the final quarter against Moorestown. With the score tied at 36 all, the home team opened the final period by scoring 15 straight points to soar to a 51-36 margin. Chief architects of the spurt were co-captain Jim Byer who drove in for three layups after trying to hit from the outside with little success; Richard Patt, who hit on jump shots from the pivot; and Alex Langel who connected from the outside.

The visitors managed to grab only two rebounds in the entire final canto. Byer and Langel scored 23 and 21 points respectively to lead Hun. No other Hun player hit double figures. The 63 points marked Hun's second best offensive effort of the season.

LARRIES FINISH THIRD

In Swimming Tournament. Lawrenceville's host swimming team posted a 46-point total, five under Pine Crest School of Fort Lauderdale, Fla., to finish third in the 62nd annual Eastern Interscholastic Swimming meet in Lavino Field House last weekend. The Larries had a chance to win the prep school division, but finished third in the medley relay.

In the individual events, however, Russ Kingery set a new meet record of 2.03.9 in the individual medley. Peekskill Military Academy was second in the prep school division with 48 points, while Tonawanda (N. Y.) High School won the high school division.

The Lawrenceville basketball team closed out its season with a 5-9 mark as it lost to The Hill School on Saturday. The Red and Black hockey sextet gained a 3-3 tie with Trinity-Pawling at home last Wednesday to finish the season with a 2-10-2 record.

BOWLING NOTES

Rocky Hill On Top. Rocky Hill (32) held a one-game margin over Princeton No. 1 in the Tri-County Fireman's League at the end of last week's bowling action. Dutch Neck and Belle Meade were tied for third place with 28 points each. In the Faculty loop, Accelerator (26) held a one-game lead over PPL with Engineering and COB tied for third with 18 points each.

The Farmers continued to pace the "A" circuit, but K of C (26) remained only a game behind, and three other squads were tied for third place. Edwards Engraving (32) topped the "B" loop, ahead of Sportsmen No. 2 (28) and Ivy Inn (26), while Para Lab Supply (18) held a slim half-game lead over Tiger Garage in the Industria League.

Nassau Service (43) jumped into a big lead in the Women's Industrial loop, ahead of Jefferson Plumbing by 11 points and Fulmer-Powers by 13, while Nassau Del (42) maintained a safe five-point edge over Swift's Diner in the Women's League. Top ladies' scores included Lillian Burrough, 196-188; Sara Rose, 189-180, and Marilyn Murphy, 185, in the former loop; and Liz Brown, 194, in the latter.

Don Snyder rolled the men's high game with 225 in the "B" League. Other notable scores included Angelo Tamasi and Frank Delneso, 210 each; Bill Dumble, 208; John Baldino, 202; Frank Maddalon and Al Hibbard, 201 each, and Dick Edwards, 200, in the "B" loop; and Art Parr, 224; Iggi McHugh, 211; Bruce Rittenhouse, 204, Norm Luck, 203; and Ken

News Of The CHURCHES

LENT TO BEGIN

Ash Wednesday Set. The 40-day observance of Lent will begin next week with Ash Wednesday. Easter will be Sunday, April 22.

Among churches planning special Ash Wednesday services are St. Paul's Roman Catholic and Trinity Episcopal. Ashes will be distributed at St. Paul's after the masses at 7 and 8:15 a.m. and 3.30 and 8 p.m.

There will be services of Holy Communion at Trinity Church on Wednesday at 6:30, 7:15, 8:15, 9:30 and 11 a.m., with evening prayer at 5:15 p.m. and litany and penitential office at 7:30 p.m. All Saint's Chapel will observe Holy Communion at 7:15 and 9:30 a.m., morning prayer at 9 a.m., evening prayer at 5:15 p.m. and litany and penitential office at 7:30 p.m.

PRAYER DAY PLANNED

For March 9. The United Church Women of Princeton will mark the annual World Day of Prayer with three services next Friday, March 9, at First Baptist Church, John and Green Streets. The services will be at 10 a.m. and 3:15 and 8 p.m. Mrs. Lewis B. Cuyler of Trinity Episcopal Church is general chairman.

The 10 a.m. service will be under the direction of Mrs. Orion C. Hopper, president of the United Church Women. She will be assisted by Mrs Floyd Campbell, Mrs. Thomas Good, Mrs. Minot Morgan, Mrs. Henry Dyer and Mrs. Herbert Redetzke. There will be a nursery open for young children.

Speaker at the 3:15 and 8 p.m. services will be Mrs. Joel Nystrom of Princeton Methodist Church Mrs. Nystrom lived in Uruguay for 10 years and is a personal friend of one of the women who wrote the liturgy which is being used all around the world on this day.

The 3:15 p.m. program will include a children's service. Mrs. Kenneth L. Maxwell will be in charge, assisted by Mrs. Wallace Holland, Mrs. Arthur Byers, Mrs. Harry A. Hill, Mrs. Ray Kell, Mrs. A. Roland Main and Mrs. Thurland T. Wilkinson.

Mrs. William Parker will direct the 8 p.m. service. Her assistants will include Mrs. Francis Chamber, Mrs. Cyrus C. Young and Mrs. Henry Garner.

Pennington Service. The United Church Women of Pennington are also sponsoring a World Day of Prayer program, to be held Friday, March 9, at 1 p.m. at St. Matthew's Church. Guest speaker will be Mrs. Richard Lindabury of the Episcopal Diocese of Pennsylvania, who will discuss the New Delhi conference. Baby-sitting facilities will be provided.

The World Day of Prayer, which is observed at the same time throughout the world, raises funds for religious and educational work. Last year's program raised more than $662,000. Projects for 1962 include a radio and audio-visual program for Africa; promotion of education of Christian women overseas, and aid to churches in Alaska.

BULLETIN NOTES

HOCKEY TEAM BLANKED

By Harvard, 10-0. The difference between first and last place in the Ivy League was painfully demonstrated to Princeton's hockey team at Cambridge Tuesday as Harvard handed the visiting Tigers a 10-0 shellacking. The victory assured the Crimson of successful defense of its league crown

Less than a minute after the game started, Captain Austie Sullivan had a penalty called on him, and very shortly thereafter, Harvard had used its advantage to score its first goal. Two more followed in the first period, with a murderous second round seeing the score mount to 8-0.

In all, the well-balanced Harvard attack took 53 shots on target. The losers were credited with only 19, none of them good enough to avert the whitewash.

PHS WINS FINAL GAME

Drubs Hamilton, 77-57. An early scoring spree that built up a lead of a dozen points provided the springboard for Princeton High School's 77-57 triumph in basketball over Hamilton High Tuesday evening. Off to a 12-2 advantage, the Little Tigers led, 17-8, after the first quarter on the losers' court and repeated this margin in the second round to take a commanding half-time advantage of 34-16

George Tucker hit for nine field goals and eight fouls to collect 26 points, while Dan Brown celebrated his return to the starting lineup with 12 and Hank Schmidt had 13. Coach Tony Borzok cleared his bench of all 14 players before the game ended Victors in 16 of their 19 regular-season games, the Little Tigers compiled one of the top records in the school's long history of basketball.

HUN EASY VICTOR

In Last Game, 81-45. Everything went right for the Hun School basketball team in its final game of the season as it rolled to an 81-43 triumph over the George School The victory gave the Red and Black a 5-10 mark for the winter.

Jim Byer hit for 24 and Alex Langel backed him up with 23 to pace the Red and Black offense The victors had only a 14-12 margin after the first quarter but increased their advantage to 29-21 at the half and then added 23 points to George School's 7 in the decisive third round

Dear TRAVELEX,

After stops at Peiraieus and Port Said, we'll go south through the Red Sea (hope it stays wet!) on our P&O Orient Liner. We'll see the sights of Aden and then through the Indian Ocean to Bombay, India. We've run away to sea and we're enjoying it to the hilt! The food and sun are out of this bleak March world!

We'll do some shopping and see the sights in Bombay and then south to Columbo. We'll make four stops in Australia at Fremantle, Adelaide, Melbourne, and Sydney. Then over to Auckland, New Zealand, north to Suva, over to Honolulu and from there on to San Francisco.

Whew! Sounds as if we'd be out of breath. But not us. This long, leisurely cruise will be as long as we want it to be with luxurious cabins, wonderful food, and traveling companions from all over the world.

Cordially,

Nancy

See These Three!

Just completed by one of Princeton's most respected builders of custom homes, these three individually-styled homes are rich in luxury details . . . must be seen! They're on thickly-treed sites in the Littlebrook School District.

2-STORY COLONIAL. Beautifully landscaped ¾ acre corner site. True center hall design. Ultra-equipped U-shaped kitchen. Separate dinette as well as formal dining room. Wonderful screened porch. Library. 4 bedrooms upstairs. 2½ baths. Basement. 2-car garage. $39,750

L-SHAPED RANCH. Unusually large rooms. Bay-windowed living room overlooks brook. Magnificent island kitchen with dinette. Mahogany-panelled family room has sliding glass doors to rear patio. 3 bedrooms, 2 baths. Lovely front porch. Basement. 2-car garage. 125 x 250 plot. $37,000

* * * *

SPLIT LEVEL. A corner fireplace highlights the living room. The family room is exceptionally large, has sliding glass doors to the rear patio. Besides a separate dining room, there's a dinette in the kitchen. Another feature is an "extra room" . . . use it as a study or 4th bedroom. 2 baths. Half-acre in Princeton Manor $29,000

IMMEDIATE OCCUPANCY

$20,900

TOWNSHIP SPLIT-LEVEL — A corner fireplace highlights the living room. The family room is exceptionally large, has sliding glass doors to rear patio. Besides a separate dining room, there is a dinette in the kitchen. Another feature is an "extra room" . . . use it as a study or fourth bedroom. 2½ baths. Half acre plot.

WESTERN SECTION — This house, built in the Revolutionary Period is without a doubt the best listing in Princeton. The house consists of three bedrooms, two and one-half baths, a modern kitchen, dining room, living room, and a large stone walled and panelled den. There are two working fireplaces. All this, and a garden that would make Martha cry with envy, sells for $46,900

TOWNSHIP LOT — Water, sewerage and gas serve this attractive wooded lot in a $35,000 to $45,000 bracket neighborhood. Figuring the cost of construction, this 100 by approximately 175 foot lot is well worth the private home builder's inspection.
